ANOINTING OF THE SICK

Saturdays after the 8:30 a.m. Mass

From Our Pastor, Fr. Fausto ...

My Dear Friends,

Today's Gospel introduces the striking change of heart, mind and attitude that we Christians must have as the fulfillment of the Ten Commandments of the Jewish Scripture (Old Testament). We call these nine blessings the Christian Ethical Conduct of Life. So different and, on the surface at least, kind of insane for a Jewish ideal based on the books of the Israelite conquest of the Holy Land and for a Muslim conquest of the world, and sometimes, also for a modern, practical mind!

1. Blessed are the poor "In spirit." One may be wealthy but detached from his money and a benefactor of the indigent, whereas a poor person may be imbued with class, envy and greed. As in the parable of Lazarus, God will be generous with Paradise to the poor, homeless and refugees who suffer in this life!

2. Mourning is sadness and there are so many reasons we are sad, such as, to name a few, rejection, depression, illness, death of a beloved one, and so forth and so on. God will comfort us, this is Jesus' promise.

3. Being meek is not what our parents told us to be, because as kids we were hurt by bullies, or thereafter, fighting arrogant and predatory people! Jesus assured us that we, the meek and merciful, will possess the promised land of paradise.

4. How many times did we look to politicians and powerful people and they stepped all over us, as if justice is only for them and they can do all they want with impunity: eventually God will take vengeance and right the wrongs these powerful people have inflicted on us.

5. We merciful and forgiving of other offenders of our reputation will receive mercy, consolation and forgiveness of our own sins.

6. We will see God, Jesus promises us, if we will not judge others with malice, pride, envy and scorn because our hearts are pure, without prejudice and anger.

7. We Christians are the people of light, love, life and peace, instead of instigation of hatred, malicious gossip and darkness. We see understanding, joy and friendship, and harmony.

8. Think now of all the Christians persecuted by Muslim terrorists and wonder why God is doing nothing to stop such persecution, remember that they will receive eternal life in Paradise.

9. And then finally, we who do not want to be politically correct but Jesus-correct, we do not bow to the glitter of this world, we who are being persecuted, ostracized, ridiculed by Hollywood and the ruling class, we must win the temptation of defeat, of giving in to a godless society! We will receive a great reward in paradise, when the transitory gains and glories of the present world will be gone forever.

Thursday, February 2, is Candlemas (Candelora, Candelaria, Gromnica), which commemorates the presentation of the Lord in the Temple, forty days after His birth, thus revealing His divinity to Anna and Simeon.

If you would like to have your home candles blessed according to the ancient Catholic tradition, bring them to Church for a priest to bless them.

People seem confused about the origin of this feast from the fifth century of our Christian era. In Leviticus (12: 2-8), Moses commanded that any woman having given birth to a boy, after seven days from birth, should circumcise the boy, then spend 33 days of purification, without touching anything sacred or entering the Temple, until the 40th day. Then she will present a lamb or, if she cannot afford a lamb, she will offer a pair of doves or pigeons; one as a holocaust, totally burned to ashes, and one for a sacrifice, partly burned and partly returned to her. It is a sign that Joseph and Mary were poor or that they had spent the Magi's gifts.

This ancient Hebrew ritual seems very strange and of obscure meaning to us modern people, especially because the gory details of ancient rituals repel us, although we do delight in barbecuing meat! But there is something that should touch us here, not just the poverty of Mary and Joseph, which invokes our attention to love the poor and the needy, but also to observe religious laws, as in their situation. Mary could have concluded that Jesus, as Messiah, was superior to all regulations and precepts of the Mosaic law. She did not do so, giving us all an example of obedience to religious laws.

One of the common sentences I hear from some Catholics and many non-Catholics, too, is: "Oh! This law is Man-made church law, not a divine law (Bible)." I would like to remind these dear friends of Jesus, that He did not write a book, and He did not die for a book, but for us His people. He left us a Holy People (lay people) with an organized structure: the 12 Apostles and as a visible head over the Apostles, disciples and believers, Jesus appointed Peter. These believers, under Peter with the Apostles and their successors, continue through the millennia, and now form the biggest religious group in the world, Jesus followers, in many denominations. The books of the Bible, as sacred and inspired, were chosen and preserved by the original Bishops and Popes. We would not have a New Testament unless the successors of Peter, and/or the Apostles, decided on a list in the first 300 years of our faith, lived under terrible persecutions.

It is all of us, the Baptized Church, who form the Mystical Body of Christ, fed by the Eucharist, that keep the scriptures and interpret them under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit (Tradition).

So, although generations come and go, interpretation discovers new guidance and teaching from the Bible, we cannot say that Church laws are man-made Church laws, necessarily adapted to different ages and places, reflect the Bible and give witness to the Holy Spirit, alive in our hearts.

As Joseph and Mary were loyal to the Mosaic Law, we, the Christians, must be loyal to Church laws, keeping of course due respect to the rights of our conscience.

February 3 is the Feast of St. Blaise, Bishop and Martyr. We clerics, at the end of each Mass on February 3, will bless throats in commemoration of the miraculous healing by the saintly Bishop of a young child, who had a fish bone stuck in his throat. Remember this blessing is a Sacramental and not a Sacrament; its efficacy is dependent mainly on your faith and devotion.

Next Sunday is Caritas Sunday. In December, your generous donations at our Church doors totaled $4,718. The need seems greater than ever to help the less fortunate in our parish. Pope Francis says, "...Any Church community, if it believes it can forget about the poor, runs the risk of breaking down." Thank you for your generosity!

We would like to thank everyone who for participating in this year's Annual Prayer Walk for Life on January 20. It was a big success and we had over 200 participants. Thank you, Thank you! Support for life is so important, and your prayers will help to stop abortion.

January has been the month of Respect Life, and a parishioner sent me this beautiful poem:

Please Don't Murder Me

By Charles Moore

*I feel safe and warm here mommy
Lying so close to your heart
The steady rhythm soothes me
Tho' some day we will part
But soon I'll look upon your face
And snuggle near your breast
My little fingers holding yours
The one I love the best
And as I snuggle with you mommy
I wonder what I'll be
A doctor curing cancer
Or an athlete running free
So as I grow and face the world
Wherever life takes me
You'll always know I love you so
And in my heart you'll be
So I pray you love and want me
So at birth your face I'll see
I love you dearly mommy
So please don't murder me*

Linda, who had an abortion, writes, "My breaking point with (my former) Church was when I was feeling truly guilty because of what I had done, I knew it was wrong, but people were trying to justify it to me. I didn't need justification, I needed to know how to reconcile an already fragmented relationship with the Lord I desired... but I was too weighed down and no one seemed to see the need of forgiveness and reconciliation, at least until I came into contact with the Catholic Church. The funny thing is, so many people seem to see the Church as uncompassionate and uncaring, it was where I found love, acceptance, and forgiveness."

Congratulations to the St. Martha School students, Lauren Garner and Christina Mroczkowski, who have won the Crawfish Festival T-Shirt Art Contest. Their artwork will be on the T-shirts for the Crawfish Festival at the school!

Keep the Mission Alive

A Mission addresses the fundamentals of Christian faith in the community and in individual lives. How might you better live out these fundamentals of faith? A few suggestions:

1. Pray daily - morning and evening. Meditate regularly.
2. Attend Mass daily if you can or make the effort at least one extra day during the week.
3. Invest yourself in one of the parish ministries for the period of a year.
4. Schedule 15 minutes each day for spiritual reading using the Gospels or some spiritual book.
5. Join a prayer group or Bible study group.
6. Become a better steward of God's gifts to you by sharing your time, talent and treasure. Do so generously.
7. Make a spiritual retreat one weekend a year.
8. Be reconciled with God through regular celebration of the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Reconcile with others in your family or community.

ENGAGED

ST. JOHN BOSCO JANUARY 31

Born in Italy, after seeing the fate of children in prison, he formed the Salesian Society, named after St. Francis de Sales, and taught poor and working class boys wherever there was a need.

With the help of St. Mary Mazzarello, he also established the Salesian Sisters to do similar work among girls. May we learn from him that "Not with blows, but with charity and gentleness must you draw these friends to the path of virtue."

Cuarto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario 29 de enero de 2017

"Dichosos los pobres de espíritu, porque de ellos es el Reino de los cielos". — Mateo 5:3

EL RESTO ELEGIDO

Sofonías es uno de los profetas menos conocidos del Antiguo Testamento. Hoy habla en la primera lectura sobre el juicio inminente. Pero el Señor dejará un "resto" en Israel. Esta imagen de un resto, de lo que quedará, será vital para judíos y cristianos. La carta de Pablo a los corintios evidencia su profunda preocupación por los cristianos de allí. Están muy confiados, dice, muy seguros de sí mismos. Los insta a recordar que Cristo les ha dado todo lo que tienen. El Evangelio de hoy incluye el comienzo del "Gran Sermón" de Jesús. Así como Dios le dio a Moisés la Ley en el Sinaí, ahora Jesús reúne a sus discípulos en un monte para enseñarles la nueva Ley. Cada una de estas Bienaventuranzas contrasta la humillación del presente con la gloria del futuro. La pobreza frente a las riquezas del Reino de Dios, el hambre de Dios frente a la satisfacción en el Espíritu, la persecución frente al Reino de Dios. Jesús aquí está hablando al "resto" elegido de Dios.

BLESSINGS

The Gospel Reading for today is what is popularly called the Sermon on the Mount. Many think it is the absolute epitome of Jesus' teachings. To be sure it tells us how we are to live our lives, the attitudes we are to have. We must remember that those who were waiting and hoping for the Messiah expected a military leader, one who would lead them in battle against their oppressors. In His Sermon on the Mount Jesus gives a more accurate perspective of who He is. He begins what we call the Beatitudes (the word means "blessings") with "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." In a sense we are all "poor in spirit." Without the guidance and strength provided us by the Lord there is no way we can escape this poverty of spirit, of spirituality, if you will. That is why we often say that living God-centered lives is at the very core of stewardship. Being a disciple of Christ translates into being a steward of our many gifts and blessings. Some scholars believe that Jesus may have given this sermon often during His ministry. Those who followed Jesus and became the earliest Christians, the first members of the Church, were fond of quoting and referring to what the Lord said on this occasion. As stated Jesus provides us with the secret of living a good life. If we rely on Him and follow Him, we will be blessed.
