From Our Pastor, Fr. Fausto...

My Dear Friends,

This weekend the serious obligation for every Catholic to attend Mass on Sundays and Holy Days takes effect. The following persons are not obligated to attend Mass:

- Those who are ill, confined to their home, hospital, or nursing facility as well as those who care for them
- Those who have reason to believe they were recently exposed to Covid-19
- Those who have underlying health conditions or are in a high-risk category
- Those who have a reasonable fear or anxiety of becoming ill if they attend Mass.
- When impossible to enter church, because of over crowding. If the Church is at capacity and it is not possible to attend another service, everyone is warmly invited to receive Holy Communion at the window of the Confessional Room.

In today's Gospel, the life of Jesus (the "Amazing Grace") is the vital lymph running from the vine to the last minuscule branch and leaves, giving them sustenance and life; Jesus is the vine, we are the branches. When we (branches) are cut off from Jesus (vine) through mortal sin, we die! We'll come back to life when the branch is grafted back to the vine, and the sooner the better. The more conscious we become of our branching into Jesus, the more observant we become of Jesus' inspirations and commandments in our daily thoughts and actions. Consequently, the more saintly our lives will become, and we will be more effective as recruiters of others toward Jesus, our light.

Sometimes we, Jesus' followers, joyfully get together on Sundays to achieve our close encounter with Jesus. But then we find so much difficulty in radiating and sharing the powerful inner presence of Jesus with people around us throughout the week. The cares and stress of our daily life make us forget such closeness with Jesus, but still all of us Catholics bring with us a special presence of the Trinity: we are bearers of God's light, whether we are consciously aware of it or not.

We have begun the most beautiful month of the year, dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Let us honor her memory with a daily sacrifice to practice self-control and to follow Jesus more closely. The ancient friars used to say "Ad Jesum per Mariam" (let us reach Jesus with the help of Mary) whose statue will remain in the sanctuary throughout the month, reminding us to pay homage to her with a daily rosary. In my Catholic school, when I was young, all of us pupils had to write little notes with our daily sacrifices and put the notes in a box. Then these notes were burned in front of the statue of Mary at the end of the month, to signify that now all those prayers and sacrifices went up to heaven and were written in the Book of Life. Let us make our month of May truly special, not letting a day pass without a special homage to Our Mother in Heaven, and to her Son Jesus; the Rosary is a favorite prayer.

Three years ago, our beloved Pope Francis wrote an Apostolic Exhortation: "Gaudete et Exsultate" (Exult and Rejoice). The following are some excerpts, which I'm happy to share:

- In the church, holy yet made up of sinners, you will find everything you need to grow toward holiness. The Lord has bestowed on the church the gifts of Scripture, the sacraments, holy places, living communities, the witness of the saints and a multifaceted beauty that proceeds from God's love.
- You too need to see the entirety of your life as a mission. Try to do so by listening to God in prayer and recognizing the signs that he gives you. Always ask the Spirit what Jesus expects from you at every moment of your life and in every decision you must make so as to discern its place in the mission you have received.

- It is not healthy to love silence while fleeing interaction with others, to want peace and quiet while avoiding activity, to seek prayer while disdaining service. Everything can be accepted and integrated into our life in this world and become a part of our path to holiness.
- The presence of constantly new gadgets, the excitement of travel and an endless array of consumer goods at times leave no room for God's voice to be heard. We are overwhelmed by words, by superficial pleasures and by an increasing din, filled not by joy but rather by the discontent of those whose lives have lost meaning.
- Holiness does not make you less human, since it is an encounter between your weakness and the power of God's grace.
- When somebody has an answer for every question, it is a sign that they are not on the right road. They may well be false prophets who use religion for their own purposes, to promote their own psychological or intellectual theories.
- Nor can we claim to say where God is not, because God is mysteriously present in the life of every person in a way that he himself chooses, and we cannot exclude this by our presumed certainties. Even when someone's life appears completely wrecked, even when we see it devastated by vices or addictions, God is present there.
- It is not easy to grasp the truth that we have received from the Lord. And it is even more difficult to express it. So we cannot claim that our way of understanding this truth authorizes us to exercise a strict supervision over others' lives.
- In the church there legitimately coexist different ways of interpreting many aspects of doctrine and Christian life; in their variety, they "help to express more clearly the immense riches of God's word."
- When some of them tell the weak that all things can be accomplished with God's grace, deep down they tend to give the idea that all things are possible by the human will, as if it were something pure, perfect, all-powerful, to which grace is then added.
- Not infrequently, contrary to the promptings of the Spirit, the life of the church can become a museum piece or the possession of a select few. This can occur when some groups of Christians give excessive importance to certain rules, customs or ways of acting. The Gospel then tends to be reduced and constricted, deprived of its simplicity, allure and savor.
- The beatitudes are like a Christian's identity card. So if anyone asks, "What must one do to be a good Christian?" the answer is clear. We have to do, each in our own way, what Jesus told us in the Sermon on the Mount.
- Our defense of the innocent unborn, for example, needs to be clear, firm and passionate, for at stake is the dignity of a human life, which is always sacred and demands love for each person regardless of his or her stage of development. Equally sacred, however, are the lives of the poor, those already born, the destitute, the abandoned and the underprivileged, the vulnerable infirm and elderly exposed to covert euthanasia, the victims of human trafficking, new forms of slavery and every form of rejection.
- Christians too can be caught up in networks of verbal violence through the internet and the various forums of digital communication. Even in Catholic media, limits can be overstepped, defamation and slander can become commonplace, and all ethical standards and respect for the good name of others can be abandoned.

- Let us acknowledge our weakness but allow Jesus to lay hold of it and send us too on mission. We are weak, yet we hold a treasure that can enlarge us and make those who receive it better and happier. Boldness and apostolic courage are an essential part of mission.
- Like the prophet Jonah, we are constantly tempted to flee to a safe haven. It can have many names: individualism, spiritualism, living in a little world, addiction, intransigence, the rejection of new ideas and approaches, dogmatism, nostalgia, pessimism, hiding behind rules and regulations.
- So if we dare to go to the fringes, we will find him there; indeed, he is already there. Jesus is already there in the hearts of our brothers and sisters, in their wounded flesh, in their troubles and in their profound desolation. He is already there.
- We should not think of the devil as a myth, a representation, a symbol, a figure of speech or an idea. This mistake would lead us to let down our guard, to grow careless and end up more vulnerable. The devil does not need to possess us. He poisons us with the venom of hatred, desolation, envy and vice. When we let down our guard, he takes advantage of it to destroy our lives, our families and our communities.
- Those who think they commit no grievous sins against God's law can fall into a state of dull lethargy. Since they see nothing serious to reproach themselves with, they fail to realize that their spiritual life has gradually turned lukewarm. They end up weakened and corrupted.
- Discernment, then, is not a solipsistic self-analysis or a form of egotistical introspection but an authentic process of leaving ourselves behind in order to approach the mystery of God, who helps us carry out the mission to which he has called us for the good of our brothers and sisters.

Our beloved circus chaplain, Fr. Jerry Hogan, is now in Boston for further medical treatment. His address is: 60 William Cardinal O'Connell Pkwy, Boston, MA 02114.

Today is Caritas Sunday and the volunteers will be outside the church doors after each Mass. This past month you dear parishioners very generously gave $3,042 to help the needy in our area. Thank you!

Over 1.5 million seafarers work on ships that bring goods and medicine to stores here in the United States and around the world. But the COVID-19 pandemic has hit the industry hard, and as governments around the world have closed their borders to contain the coronavirus, there are over 400,000 seafarers who are stuck on vessels at sea.

#SolidaritywithSeafarers

What does Pope Francis say about maritime workers?

- Without seafarers, the global economy would come to a stand still
- Without fishermen, many parts of the world would starve
- We must listen to the spiritual & material concerns of seafarers and fishermen

Seafarers are key essential workers too!

Thanks to Stella Maris and the Apostleship of the Sea of the USA, we have port chaplains, ship visitors, and volunteers who minister to seafarers and fishers throughout our country and around the world. They offer everything from a listening ear and spiritual guidance for seafarers struggling after months at sea to providing Wi-Fi access to connect them with loved ones. Stella Maris and AOS-USA work to ensure that the dignity and rights of seafarers and fishers are upheld by monitoring for any signs of unsafe work conditions or labor exploitation. Join with Catholics around the globe in raising the visibility of the Church's ministry to the men and women who work at sea!
