December 30-31, 2023

Homily, Lk 02, 22-40 From Deacon Bill

Dear Parishioners of St. Martha,

There are a few passages in Scripture which say something to the effect that Jesus' demands are hard to follow or difficult to accept. But there is another of His sayings that, for man these things are impossible but with God, all things are possible.

The Gospel passage about the Holy Family: Jesus, Mary and Joseph, might lead us to think that this ideal family couldn't be further from what our own families look like. And yet, our own families are Christ-centers, whether we recognize it or not. God works there as well as everywhere else. The example of the Holy Family reminds us of that fact today. It helps to put our priorities into perspective. The family at Nazareth says to us that if we place the love of God as priority #1 in each of our lives, that it will reflect into our love for each other and then into the world around us.

I was thinking the other day about how generous the families of St. Martha's are, especially during the Christmas season. When we need funds for Caritas every month, our families come through for the needy of the area. We had turkeys donated to the Knights of Columbus in record numbers this year. You are generous people.

But sometimes we are not so generous with ourselves, or with one another. We get discouraged about our families, that they are not all that they should be. We sometimes fail one another with our selfishness and neglect. Maybe some of us were disappointed by our own families in the past. Mothers and fathers make mistakes with one another and their children. Children hurt their parents and sisters and brothers by their actions. It's easy to get discouraged about ourselves and the things that we sometimes do to one another. The family at Nazareth model can be seen as something so far from our family life that it isn't real for us.

But the Gospel gives us a lifeline for our families, regardless of the shape that family may take: the lifeline is Christ Himself, and the simple example that He gives us over and over again in so many Gospel passages: love one another. Parents, love your children and do the best you can; you will have done your duty with the gift you have been given as parents. Children, love your parents and listen to their voices of experience; you will have done your best and will not repeat history. Married couples, love one another as Christ loves you; your relationship will be as good as it can be. And those of you who are single, we often forget you and you are family too. The love that you have available within yourselves is meant to be shared with those around you.

In the family where love for one another is the most important thing, there is no blame, there is no selfishness. There is nothing that cannot be overcome: no crisis, no pain, no loss, no disappointment, because Christ is there, just like He was at Nazareth. The next time you have one of those moments that can discourage and hurt, remember that Jesus is just as present in your family as He was with Mary and Joseph. Share Him with one another, ask and pray for His help.

That's the message of the Feast of the Holy Family for us today: it is an affirmation of our families; it is a reminder that our families are sacred and blessed and must be recognized as being Christ-filled. It is also a reminder that it is not an impossible task for our families to be the best that they can be, for with God present in them, all things are possible.

Remember this: we turn to Him in times of crisis and cry for help. We turn to Him during times of discouragement and ask for strength. In times of pain, we pray for comfort. But let us also turn to him in times of joy and say, Thank you God for all we have together.

From Father George

Sunday of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph

May God bless you during this time of grace

The Nativity of Jesus in Bethlehem was very humble event and hardly noticed by the contemporary society, yet it brought salvation from evil and powerful message of peace in the middle of the Roman occupation of the Holy Land and it spread across the world. We pray and wish that God will bring peace to the people of the Holy Land and bless Ukraine at this time as well as all people of good will! May God bless you and your families!

January 1st is the World Day of prayer for Peace. It is not a holiday of obligation this year. We pray with the words of Scriptures: May the Lord bless you and keep you. May the Lord let his face shine on you and be gracious to you. May the Lord uncover his face to you and bring you peace (Numbers 6: 24-26).

Thank you for Advent & Christmas decorations!

For Christmas Tree with colorful decorative items including doves of peace, which to me symbolize Jesus the Prince of peace, whose help we ask for at this time. May God bless all who helped to decorate our church!

Next Sunday (January 7, 2024) is the Solemnity of the Epiphany of the Lord

With prayers for God's blessing to you and your family,
Father George

*"...Parents, love your children and do the best you can...
Children, love your parents and listen to their voices of experience..."*

2024 Florida ballot proposal:
 "Amendment to Limit Government Interference with Abortion"

FACT # 3

This proposed amendment would eliminate the current law requiring parental consent for minors.

It only retains parental notification which could be done after an abortion, leaving parents out of the decision.

Shouldn't a parent be part of that decision for their daughter?

DECLINE TO SIGN the petition for this dangerous pro-abortion amendment!
