Epiphany of the Lord: Mt 2:1-12

From Deacon Bob

Dear Parishioners of St. Martha,

In today's Gospel, on the Epiphany, we find the magi, come to the baby Jesus. After encountering Our Lord, they depart by another way. The magi encountered a perception of essential nature or meaning of the birth of the Christ. They entered Bethlehem one way, encountered Mary and the baby Jesus, were changed, and left different people. The Feast of Our Lord's Birth: Christmas, and today the Epiphany of Our Lord are feasts the Church hopes does the same to us.

Through our lives we all have encountered epiphanies (with a small e). We came to the situation one way and left a changed person. For me it was the birth of our first child. Up to the moment of Meghan's birth, I understood the priorities of God, family, friends, society, then me in that order. But I did not fully understand unconditional love and 100% self-sacrifice. That fateful day on October 13, 1994, I had an epiphany. I entered the birthing room honestly wanting to be in the waiting room handing out cigars.

However, Margaret expected me to be in the room with her, and I understood my responsibility to be in there. So I was in there. Prior to the delivery, Dr. Pollack asked if I wanted to cut the umbilical cord. I told him not only did I NOT want to cut it, but I was also going to watch and focus strictly on Margaret as I feared the experience would be too graphic.

But the moment Meghan's head crowned, I had an epiphany (Small e). At that second, I was changed. Not only was I focused on my daughter's birth, but Dr. Pollack also had to keep on pushing me out of the way. When he pulled the scissors out to cut the cord, I almost grabbed them out of his hand, as now I insisted that I wanted to cut the cord. My life changed! From that moment on, my life was never mine again. It was Meghan's, then Meghan and Mackenzie's, then Meghan, MacKenzie and Patrick's. I experienced unconditional love, and the rest of my life would be dedicated to the responsibility God put in my hands that day.

When the Father gave us the Word made Flesh that very first Christmas, He invited us into an Epiphany (with a Large E). He gave us His Son so we could have a divine revelation of true reality. In the baby Jesus, God offered us hope in this weary world. If we, like the magi, enter the manger and truly see Jesus, understand what He brings to our world: our weary world will rejoice.

We all entered this Christmas season with some sort of secular baggage regardless of our love and faith in God. In Epiphany Jesus too offers hope. He wants to give us His peace. His peace is not found in things such as money, trips, power, personal relationships, and/or success. It is found in the most unassuming place of all. It is found in a manger.

A parishioner and friend gave me a present this Christmas. It was a small marble sign with the phrase from Roman's: If God is for us, who can be against us? The magi understood the moment they entered the manger what they thought was important before was not. I entered a birthing room thinking I knew what was important and found it was not. Jesus is calling us all this season to have the same Epiphany as the magi.

As many of you know earlier this year, I had another epiphany (small e) when a friend provided a saying that has helped me accept the peace that Jesus is inviting us into which I have previously shared with you. Peace is not the absence of trouble, but the presence of God. This Christmas Season, may we be touched by His birth, and as we entered the Season one way, may we like the magi "depart by another way."

"Peace is not the absence of trouble, but the presence of God."
— Deacon Bob

From Father George

Solemnity of the Epiphany of the Lord – gold, frankincense, and myrrh

The words of the Christmas Carol: We Three Kings of Orient Are, which is sung on the Epiphany of the Lord tell us about the meaning of the gifts offered to Jesus by the Magi: Gold I bring to crown him again; King forever, ceasing never... Frankincense to offer I; incense owns a Deity nigh; Prayer and praising, Gladly raising... Myrrh is mine; its bitter perfume Breathes a life of gathering gloom; Sorrowing, sighing, Bleeding, dying... . They reveal Jesus as King, God and the Anointed. The whole world recognizes the Son of God and Jesus reveals himself to all the nations. Nothing equals: Royalty, Divinity and Self-offering of Christ and all people own him love and worship.

Thank you for Christmas gifts and presents! I am sure I am writing this on behalf of all clergy of St. Martha's parish. Thank you so much for beautiful cards, Christmas wishes and prayers as well as gifts and presents given to us individually or given to all clergy. You are very kind and generous to us and we all appreciate your respect and care for your priests and deacons. May God almighty bless you with his abundant goodness!

Monday, January 8, 2024 – The Feast of the Baptism of the Lord! This feast ends the Christmas time in the Liturgy, and it brings Ordinary time of the year. White color of Christmas changes into the green color and our Christmas decorations will be removed from the church.

Next Sunday (January 14, 2024) is the 2nd Sunday of the Year

With prayers for God's blessing to you and your family, Father George

walking with purpose

So much more than a Bible Study!

OUR IMPACT: March 2023 National Survey results from Parish Program Participants

 86% say their Catholic faith is stronger	 89% say their prayer life has improved	 91% say their relationship with Christ is stronger	 96% say they would recommend WWP to a friend
---	---	---	---

At Walking With Purpose, we believe that relationships matter, truth matters, and you matter. Our vision for the future is that as more Catholic women deepen their relationships with Jesus Christ, eternity-changing transformation will take place in their hearts – and, by extension – in their families, in their communities, and ultimately, in our world.

Come and encounter the God that loves you and wants to share His life with you.
