Today's Sermon from Fr. Gennadi

Jesus traveled through cities and villages, teaching and making his journey to Jerusalem. Someone once asked Him: Lord, will only a few people be saved? This question from today's Gospel is as relevant today as it was when it was first asked: Will only a few be saved? And then behind that question is another question: Will I be saved? Jesus says that many will try to enter through the door of heaven but they won't succeed. Yet a lot of people will come from the four corners of the earth and take their places at the banquet in heaven. Jesus' message is that salvation is meant for everyone.

But there is a warning in today's Gospel that we cannot presume that we are saved. When we reach the gates of heaven, the Master of the house can say to us: I do not know you. And it may turn out that we will explain that we are good persons and we have done everything that Jesus tells us to do, and yet the Master may say: I do not know you. It's easy to think that we deserve our place in heaven because we followed the rules. We know that salvation is a gift from God. We can never earn it. But, how to understand words: I do not know you. It is about our relationship with God. He knows us and loves us. Jesus' life and death prove that this is the case. But God also wants us to know and love Him freely. Unfortunately, we are easily deceived. We can convince ourselves that we are doing everything right. We can convince ourselves that the hours we spend in prayer and doing good to others have brought us great recognition in heaven and that our place in heaven is already secured. We completely forget that compared to the love that God has for us, everything we do is nothing. What God wants from us is love, and for that we need hearts. We need hearts to praise His holy name. Hearts full of compassion for others. Hearts that are filled with sorrow because of the many sins we have committed. We know that this greatest of all gifts, the gift of salvation, carries with it a great responsibility. We know that we must maintain our faith in Christ and follow the teachings of the Church. We know that we have a responsibility to bear witness of His name in the world. But being the recipient of these blessings does not guarantee us anything with regard to heaven. Regardless of who we are, we have no built-in advantage over anyone else. This entrance into heaven is found only in Christ: I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and in Him we will be saved. And He wants us to be saved. He gave His life for us, and it is an invitation to us to give our lives for Him and for our brothers and sisters in the human family. From Jesus' words and actions, we learn how to speak and act. We put His words on our lips, we follow in His footsteps, we touch with His hands. We are conformed to Him to such an extent that when, at this most important moment of our lives, the Master opens the door to us, He does not see us, but sees His Son. But by doing what He does, we have become like Him.

Although we cannot merit salvation, although we cannot presume it, we certainly can, and indeed ought to, hope and pray for salvation. We should pray for salvation every day of our lives, for ourselves and for those around us. We have already received so many wonderful gifts from God, and let us pray that He will give us this one, last, and best of all possible gifts—the gift of salvation.

Our Pastor, Father George

From Father George:

Stations of the Cross - are now being cleaned and treated. They will be back soon in their places.

Saints of the Week:

St. Monica - (Aug. 27) After thirty years of prayer, she obtained the conversion of her dissolute pagan husband; under the guidance of St. Ambrose she won the conversion of her eldest son, Augustine. She is a patroness of mothers. She died in 387 at Ostia (Italy).

St. Augustine - (Aug. 28), born in Tagaste, north Africa (now Souk Abras, Algeria). After a dissolute life, he received baptism at age thirty-three from St. Ambrose. He was elected bishop of Hippo; he combated Manichees, the Donatists, and Pelagius; most noted for his Confessions and City of God; considered a founder of monastic life in the West. His Rule is observed by some 100 religious communities today. He is considered the founder of the Order of Augustinians (O.S.A.), Doctor of the Church, called Doctor of grace. He died in 430 in Hippo (now modern day Annaba, Algeria).

The Passion of St. John the Baptist - (Aug. 29). This Memorial originates in the celebration of the dedication, perhaps on this day, of the church of St. John at Sabaste (Samaria) where, according to tradition, John the Baptist was buried by his disciples.

Next Sunday, August 31, 2025, is the 22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time.

Labor Day - (Monday Sept. 1) marks the end of summer vacation and the beginning of regular parish and school activities. We are all encouraged to participate in the spiritual and temporal works of our faith community. We will have two Masses in the morning: 7:30am & 8:30am.

With prayers for God's blessing to you and your family,
 Father George

His Holiness Pope Leo XIV

Prayer Intention for August 2025 - For mutual coexistence

Let us pray that societies where coexistence seems more difficult might not succumb to the temptation of confrontation for ethnic, political, religious, or ideological reasons.

Prayer for Safety in Hurricane Season

O God, Master of this passing world, hear the humble voices of your children.
The Sea of Galilee obeyed Your order and returned to its former quietude.

You are still the Master of land and sea.
We live in the shadow of a danger over which we have no control: the Gulf, like a provoked and angry giant, can awake from its seeming lethargy, overstep its conventional boundaries, invade our land, and spread chaos and disaster.

During this hurricane season we turn to You,
O loving Father. Spare us from past tragedies whose memories are still so vivid and whose wounds seem to refuse to heal with passing of time.

O Virgin, Star of the Sea, Our beloved Mother,
we ask you to plead with your Son on our behalf, so that spared from the calamities common to this area and animated with a true spirit of gratitude, we will walk in the footsteps of your Divine Son to reach the heavenly Jerusalem, where a stormless eternity awaits us.

Amen.
